Research Summary

Barium-based grease is a type of lubricating grease that contains barium soap as its thickening agent. Barium-based grease provides excellent water resistance and high-temperature stability, making it ideal for use in harsh environments. It is commonly used in automotive and industrial applications, such as bearings, bushings, and gears. Barium-based grease is also known for its resistance to oxidation and corrosion, which helps to prolong the lifespan of machinery and equipment. However, due to concerns regarding the toxicity of barium, alternative greases such as lithium or calcium-based greases are becoming more popular.

The major global manufacturers of Barium-Based Grease include Klüber Lubrication, Carl Bechem, Pseinu, Metalub, Brugarolas, Sinopec Lubricant, etc. The global players competition landscape in this report is divided into three tiers.
