Research Summary

Cool roof coatings are specialized roofing materials designed to reflect more sunlight and absorb less heat compared to traditional roofing materials. These coatings are applied to the roof surface to create a protective layer that reduces the roof's heat absorption, helping to keep the building cooler and lower indoor temperatures. Cool roof coatings are available in various formulations, including white or light-colored coatings and specialized pigments that reflect infrared radiation. By reflecting more sunlight, cool roof coatings reduce the amount of heat transferred into the building, which can lead to energy savings, improved indoor comfort, and reduced air conditioning costs. These coatings are particularly beneficial in warm and sunny climates, where they can help mitigate the urban heat island effect and contribute to more sustainable and energy-efficient building practices.

The major global manufacturers of Cool Roof Coatings include PPG, Sherwin-Williams, Gardner-Gibson, Dow, Jotun, GAF, DuluxGroup, Polyglass, RPM, Selena, BASF SE, National Coatings, Henry Company, EVERROOF, Gaco Western, Karnak, DT
