Research Summary

Enriched boron refers to a specific form of the chemical element boron in which its natural isotope composition has been altered to increase the proportion of boron-10 (10B) relative to boron-11 (11B). This enrichment process is typically carried out for various purposes, including the manufacturing of control rods used in nuclear reactors and neutron shielding materials. Boron-10 has a high neutron-capture cross-section, making it effective in absorbing thermal neutrons and regulating nuclear reactions. As such, enriched boron is crucial in nuclear technology and reactor safety, helping to control and stabilize the rate of nuclear fission and prevent potential accidents in nuclear power plants.

The major global manufacturers of Enriched Boron include 3M, Stella Chemifa, NUKEM Isotopes, Hunan Ramon Technology, Messer, Dalian Boronten Sci&Tech, etc. The global players competition landscape in this report is divided into three tiers.
