Research Summary

Ethylene tetrafluoroethylene (ETFE) coatings are a type of nonstick, corrosion-resistant, and high-performance coating material commonly used in various industrial and architectural applications. ETFE is a fluoropolymer with excellent chemical resistance and durability, making it suitable for use in harsh environments. ETFE coatings are often applied to surfaces such as pipes, tanks, and industrial equipment to protect them from chemical corrosion and wear. In architecture, ETFE coatings are used as a transparent and lightweight alternative to glass in the construction of large, energy-efficient, and environmentally friendly buildings. ETFE-coated membranes can cover entire building facades or act as roofing materials, providing natural light, thermal insulation, and weather resistance. These coatings are prized for their versatility, strength, and longevity, making them valuable in a wide range of industries and applications.

The major global manufacturers of ETFE Coatings include BASF, DuPont, Daikin Industries, AGC, Zeus Industrial, Toefco Engineered Coating, Rudolf Gutbrod, Li Chang

Technology (Ganzhou), Hubei Everflon Polymer, etc. The global players competition landscape in this report is divided into three tiers.
