Research Summary

Plastic pallet pooling is a logistics and supply chain management system where companies share and circulate a pool of reusable plastic pallets instead of purchasing and managing their pallet inventory. In this model, a pallet pool provider facilitates the circulation, maintenance, and tracking of plastic pallets throughout the supply chain. After use, the pallets are returned to the pool provider for inspection, repair if needed, and redistribution to other users. This approach helps businesses optimize their pallet management processes by reducing the need for pallet storage space, minimizing the risk of pallet loss or damage, and promoting sustainability through the reuse of plastic pallets. Plastic pallet pooling systems are particularly popular in industries with complex and dynamic supply chains, such as retail, automotive, and food and beverage, where efficient pallet management is crucial for streamlined operations and reduced environmental impact.

The major global suppliers of Plastic Pallet Pooling include Brambles Limited, IGPS Logistics, Ongweoweh, ORBIS, Perfect Pallets, Kamps Pallets, Reusable Transport
