Research Summary

Sustainability consulting involves providing expert guidance and support to organizations seeking to integrate sustainable practices into their operations, products, and strategies. Sustainability consultants work with businesses, government agencies, non-profit organizations, and other stakeholders to assess their current environmental, social, and economic impacts and identify opportunities for improvement. This may include developing sustainability goals and targets, conducting sustainability audits and assessments, implementing sustainable business practices and technologies, and measuring and reporting on sustainability performance. Sustainability consulting covers a wide range of areas, including energy efficiency, renewable energy, waste reduction, water conservation, supply chain management, corporate social responsibility, and stakeholder engagement. By helping organizations address environmental and social challenges while also achieving economic benefits and long-term success, sustainability consultants play a crucial role in advancing sustainability initiatives and creating positive social and environmental impacts.

The major global suppliers of Sustainability Consulting include McKinsey & Company, EY, KPMG, Bain & Company, Deloitte, Boston Consulting Group, PA Consulting Group (Jacobs), Accenture, Tata Consultancy Services, DSS Sustainable Solutions, Ramboll Group, Arup, Sphera, BearingPoint, Roland Berger, ERM, L.E.K.
