Terrazzo flooring is a type of composite flooring material that consists of chips of marble, granite, quartz, glass, or other suitable aggregates embedded in a binder material, typically cement or epoxy resin. The surface is polished to create a smooth, durable, and visually appealing finish. Terrazzo flooring originated in Italy several centuries ago and was traditionally made using marble chips set in clay. Today, terrazzo flooring is available in a wide range of colors, patterns, and finishes, making it a versatile choice for both residential and commercial applications.
