Research Summary

Turf protection flooring refers to a type of portable, temporary, or modular flooring system designed to shield natural grass or turf surfaces from damage during events, construction projects, or heavy foot traffic. These protective solutions are commonly used in outdoor venues such as stadiums, golf courses, and event spaces where maintaining the integrity of the grass is essential. Turf protection flooring typically consists of interlocking panels or rolls made from materials like plastic, polyethylene, or other synthetic materials that are durable, lightweight, and easily installable.
