Abstracts

Business travel is ripe for a shake-up, with low-cost carriers and short-term rentals already muscling in. Business travel has the potential to become highly automated, more so than leisure travel, because it is a more frequent activity, whereby brands can deliver and improve on the product and service thanks to big data and AI. This global report looks at how all travel brands need to consider business travel through a digital, consumer-centric lens to avoid losing out to disruptive forces.

Euromonitor International's AI to Z of Business Travel global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the Travel market, highlights buzz topics, emerging geographies, categories and trends as well as pressing industry issues. It identifies the leading companies and brands, offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market from innovation, pricing, channel distribution to economic/lifestyle influences. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and outlines the criteria for success.

Product coverage: Activities, Booking, Flows, Lodging, Travel Modes, Traveller Profiles.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
