The category is expected to continue to be influenced by the increasing number of Tunisians suffering from various types of chronic pain. Given that the period of diagnosis and treatment for such ailments is likely to remain extended in order for medication to be covered by health insurance, patients affected by chronic pain are expected to continue to seek other treatments – including, in particular, analgesics – and pay for these themselves.

Euromonitor International's Analgesics in Tunisia report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data 2012-2016, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. Forecasts to 2021 illustrate how the market is set to change.
