Abstracts

Luanda and Lubango are Angola's most economically vibrant cities. While lagging behind their global counterparts, these cities are leaders in Angola in terms of digital connectivity. Luanda, with the highest potential for future economic growth, also grapples with a 40% unemployment rate, showcasing persistent urban challenges. In the medium term, Angolan cities will continue to face challenges such as decreasing per capita incomes and an increased risk of climate-related hazards.

Euromonitor International's City Review reports analyse key trends and developments in 126 world's major cities. They provide localised city information in terms of economy, consumer lifestyles, housing and transport and city environment and offer valuable insights for strategic planning.
