Abstracts

Apparel and footwear were hugely impacted by the lockdowns in 2020, with outlets closed for much of the year, consumers could only buy apparel and footwear online. In 2021, with outlets opening up again, value sales registered a double-digit value growth. All the same, with the pandemic still lingering, and a significant proportion of people continuing to work from home, which led to reduced demand for formal apparel in particular – there were lower value sales than before the onset of COVID-19.

Euromonitor International's Apparel and Footwear Specialist Retailers in Slovenia report offers insight into key trends and developments driving the industry. The report examines all retail channels to provide sector insight. Channels include hypermarkets, supermarkets, discounters, convenience stores, mixed retailers, health and beauty retailers, clothing and footwear retailers, furniture and furnishing stores, DIY and hardware stores, durable goods retailers, leisure and personal goods retailers. There are profiles of leading retailers, with analysis of their performance and the challenges they face. There is also analysis of non-store retailing: vending; homeshopping; internet retailing; direct selling, as available.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
