Abstracts

Following the major declines in sales of colour cosmetics and fragrances in 2020 due to the pandemic, both categories have since been recovering, helping to drive the overall beauty and personal care performance in Western Europe. The growth in real value terms was much stronger in 2023 than a year earlier, however, with 2022 particularly badly hit by the high inflation being seen across many markets in the region. Positive growth is expected to continue being seen over the forecast period.

Euromonitor International's Beauty and Personal Care in Western Europe global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the Beauty and Personal Care market and highlights buzz topics, emerging geographies, categories and trends as well as pressing industry issues and white spaces. It identifies the leading companies and brands, offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market - be they new product developments, packaging innovations, economic/lifestyle influences, distribution or pricing issues. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and criteria for success. The report also explores developments in the premium vs mass/masstige segments, and the evolution of novel beauty concepts.

Product coverage: Baby and Child-specific Products, Bath and Shower, Colour Cosmetics, Deodorants, Depilatories, Dermocosmetics Beauty and Personal Care, Fragrances, Hair Care, Mass Beauty and Personal Care, Men's Grooming, Oral Care, Oral Care Excl Power Toothbrushes, Premium Beauty and Personal Care, Prestige Beauty and Personal Care, Skin Care, Sun Care.
