Abstracts

Coronavirus (COVID-19) and the measures introduced to cope with and overcome the effects of the pandemic in Saudi Arabia, such as lockdown and home seclusion, stimulated a retail demand for packaged food. In the shorter term, there were levels of stockpiling, as consumers tried to ensure they had sufficient foodstuffs to tide them over and minimise contact with others and the risk of infection inherent in visits to the shops.

Euromonitor International's Better For You Packaged Food in Saudi Arabia report tracks the developments of health-associated product types and the healthy-option positioning of competing brands across different food sectors. It provides the latest retail sales data 2017-2021, allowing you to compare health and wellness categories with each other or in the context of the total market for a sector. It identifies the leading companies, the leading brands and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market- be they new product developments, legislative context or lifestyle influences. Forecasts to 2026 illustrate how the market is set to change.
