Abstracts

Despite the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, retail sales of beverages are set to continue growing over the forecast period to 2024. This is driven by rising health consciousness in soft drinks and demand for lightweight packaging of PET bottles. Meanwhile, metal beverage cans are set to grow in alcoholic drinks due to their light weight and convenience. Sustainability is becoming a key focus area as manufacturers become more environmentally conscious and launch recycled packaging.

Euromonitor International's Beverages Packaging: Key Trends and Innovations in Asia Pacific global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the packaging market, highlights the effect of emerging geographies, categories and consumer trends on the packaging landscape. It identifies the leading pack types, offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the packaging market - be they packaging innovations, consumption growth, category switching, economic/lifestyle influences, legislation or environmental issues. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and criteria for success.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
