Abstracts

The second half of 2022 brought economic uncertainty to what had started as an optimistic year in travel and tourism. Nevertheless, travel remained a priority that consumers wanted to spend on, especially after saving up during the two years of Coronavirus (COVID-19) restrictions. Despite further price increases in 2023, due, in part, to the energy crisis and high inflation in the wake of the war in Ukraine, German holidaymakers still booked in advance to destinations that they had not visited s...
