Abstracts

Consumers were more careful regarding their purchases in 2017 and attempted to find substitutes of the products that they believe were not healthy enough for their families. Sales of margarine, once regarded as a healthier alternative to butter, were in long-term decline. Concerns over trans fats have led many brands to remove the hydrogenated fats from their products.

Euromonitor International's Butter and Margarine in Bulgaria report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data 2012-2016, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth.
