Abstracts

After persistently strong sales growth over the historic period, childrenswear saw a retail value decline in 2020 in Asia Pacific, as Coronavirus (COVID-19) hit the region. However, as children continued to outgrow their clothing and with parents more disposed to maintain their spending on their offspring than themselves, childrenswear actually turned in one of the better performances in apparel and footwear in 2020. Asia Pacific is also expected to see an immediate recovery from 2021.

Euromonitor International's Childrenswear in Asia Pacific global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the apparel market, highlights buzz topics, emerging trends as well as pressing industry issues. It identifies the leading companies and brands, offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the clothing and footwear market - be they changes on the supply side, in channel dynamics, economic/ lifestyle /demographic influences or pricing issues. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and criteria for success.
