Abstracts

The Middle East and African region recorded the fastest growth globally as the smoking population is progressively increasing. The cigarette industry remains highly consolidated as internationally recognised brands remain dominant. Local brands within economy priced remain popular owing to increased taxation leading to consumers downtrading. Growth in volume and value terms will remain strong over the forecast period despite the threat from illicit trade.

Euromonitor International's Cigarettes in the Middle East and Africa global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the Tobacco market, highlighting major industry trends and categories as well as the factors affecting operating environment. It identifies the leading companies and brands, offers impartial, strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market - be they new product developments, legislative restrictions or pricing influences. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and where it is headed.
