Abstracts

Tourism is currently the most dynamic sector of the Cuban economy as the country has become a popular destination after the ease of regulations pertaining to US citizens. Havana is projected to double its lodging by 2030 as it does not meet current demand. As a national tourism campaign reveals, Havana is a unique city that allures tourists by being largely frozen in time, having conserved the colonial glory in some of its most popular areas.

Euromonitor International's City Travel Briefing: Havana global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the Travel market, highlights buzz topics, emerging geographies, categories and trends as well as pressing industry issues. It identifies the leading companies and brands, offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market from innovation, pricing, channel distribution to economic/lifestyle influences. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and outlines the criteria for success.

Product coverage: Activities, Booking, Flows, Lodging, Travel Modes, Traveller Profiles.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
