Abstracts

In general, consumer electronics continued to be affected by the Coronavirus (COVID-19) crisis in the final year of the review period. There was a level of stabilisation in many categories in 2022 and 2023, especially those that had seen spikes in sales due to the exigencies of the pandemic. Lockdowns and home seclusion forced consumers to work and study from home for long periods, while they fell back on the home and consumer electronics for entertainment and communication purposes. Overall, co...
