Abstracts

Multiple factors have been putting downward pressure on consumer electronics sales in Morocco, of which high taxes and consumer price sensitivity are just a few. Moreover, recent crises related to the pandemic and the war in Ukraine have exacerbated the situation, limiting the ability of many Moroccans to invest in consumer electronics. While the country's digitalisation journey has led to a slight increase in demand for electronics products, the process is facing some resistance to change.

Euromonitor International's Consumer Electronics in Morocco report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the in-home, portable and in-car consumer electronics products markets at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. It identifies the leading companies, the leading brands and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market- be they new product developments, distribution or pricing issues. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change.
