Abstracts

Convenience retailer sales continued to increase in 2022, helped by the South Korean government's lifting of all COVID-19-related social-distancing rules in April. New convenience retail outlets continue to open, as new constructions or housing and commercial redevelopment resumed. With workplaces and shopping outlets fully reopening, sales in central business districts such as Gwanghwamun and Yeoui-do increased particularly strongly. Older consumers who used to do their shopping in hypermarkets

Euromonitor International's Convenience Retailers in South Korea report offers insight into key trends and developments driving the industry. The report examines all retail channels to provide sector insight.
