Abstracts

In 2023, retail value sales of cooking ingredients and meals in India displayed high growth following the stabilisation of edible oils, the high value growth of ready meals, and a stable performance by mature categories such as sauce, dips and condiments. These results were driven by positive favourable macroeconomic conditions such as GDP growth, and the high median growth of disposable incomes. While 2021 and the early part of 2022 saw edible oils face multiple challenges with disruptions to t...
