Abstracts

After dairy packaging unit volumes grew at their fastest rate in almost a decade in 2020, with COVID-19 the main driver of this, growth continued to be seen in 2021 that was above the pre-pandemic review period levels. Increased demand for fresh milk packaging was driven in large part by the perception that it can provide a boost to the immune system. Moreover, consumers spent more time at home during the year and prepared and ate more meals there. PET bottles are the main pack type for fresh mi...
