Abstracts

Depilatories in Thailand saw robust growth in 2023, with both volume and current value sales posting strong and steady rises. Growth was supported by fully resumed out-of-home work, study and activities, with Thais back to socialising and playing sports now that the fear of coronavirus has receded. This meant high demand for depilatories as consumers felt the need to keep on top of hair removal for the sake of appearances and personal comfort and confidence.
