Abstracts

The above-average, high single-digit current value growth expected in topical germicidals/antiseptics in 2023 is also driving growth within overall dermatologicals in India, as this is the largest category. This surge in sales has been driven by multiple factors, including heightened awareness of the significance of hygiene and wound care amongst consumers, mainly after the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic. This increased consciousness has translated into growing demand for products with antiseptics...
