Abstracts

Sales via e-commerce have benefited greatly from the onset of the virus in 2020, with value accelerating strongly. The key driver has been the closure of non-essential physical stores at the beginning of the pandemic. This has been relaxed in 2020, but footfall continues to be affected by the inconvenience of social distancing, mandatory mask wearing and lingering anxiety over the risks of infection. Nationwide and regional curfews have also been an issue, as they have typically confined consume...
