Abstracts

The value growth in 2012 was slightly weaker with 2% in 2012 with the saturation of the demand for the common use of ear wax removal. Ear care products are not actively promoted to the local residents, and many are not educated on the use of such products. In addition, local residents prefer to use alternative ways to clean their ears, like the use of cotton swabs which are a much cheaper and convenient way for people to remove ear wax, or having professionals to do ear candling.
