Abstracts

Western European cities have long been a major draw for migrants from near and far, seeking to secure better life prospects for themselves and their families. In purely economic terms, migration stands to benefit cities as well, specifically by enhancing the local standard of living. Furthermore, businesses can take advantage of market opportunities since the foreign origin of migrants represents an additional factor in the differentiation strategy.

Strategy Briefings offer unique insight into emerging trends world-wide. Aimed squarely at strategists and planners, they draw on Euromonitor International's vast information resources to give top line insight across markets and within consumer segments. Written by some of our most experienced analysts, they are designed as provocations for senior management to use in their own forum, allowing them to stand back and reflect on the behaviour and motivation driving global markets today and tomorrow
