Abstracts

Pressure on households budgets is driving many Uruguayans to cross the border into Argentina and buy edible oils, alongside other grocery items, at a cheaper price. According to industry sources, edible oil retail prices are up to 70% cheaper in Argentina compared to Uruguay. Cross-border shopping has increased considerably in 2022-2023 in the face of higher costs of living, with the trend dampening domestic demand, notably in soy oil and sunflower oil, which are the two largest categories.
