Abstracts

Eyewear suffered badly when the pandemic hit Asia Pacific in 2020, with full recovery then delayed as the return of lockdowns in China in 2022 pushed regional sales into decline again. However, rising incidences of myopia and presbyopia due to the ever-increasing time spent in front of screens and ageing populations are helping to drive growth. The importance of e-commerce continues to grow, both as a sales channel as well as in terms of offering an omnichannel approach to sales and marketing.
