Abstracts

COVID-19 continued to have an immense impact in Japan in 2021, as the number of cases increased throughout the year, and even reached a record high in August. With this situation, consumers continued home seclusion and tried to refrain from unnecessary outings, including reducing their trips to get daily necessities such as groceries. Historically, food and drink, especially food, was slow to react to e-commerce, showing low penetration of this channel. The main reason for this was that food is...

Euromonitor International's Food and Drink E-Commerce in Japan report offers insight into key trends and developments driving the industry. The report examines all retail channels to provide sector insight. Channels include hypermarkets, supermarkets, discounters, convenience stores, mixed retailers, health and beauty retailers, clothing and footwear retailers, furniture and furnishing stores, DIY and hardware stores, durable goods retailers, leisure and personal goods retailers. There are profiles of leading retailers, with analysis of their performance and the challenges they face. There is also analysis of non-store retailing: vending; homeshopping; internet retailing; direct selling, as available.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
