Abstracts

Sales of free from packaged food remained strong in 2021, supported by ongoing restrictions on movement, with consumers continuing to enjoy more meals at home. Some of the trends that continued to drive demand included the focus on natural food and the shift to plant-based eating. The increased availability of plant-based free from meat options was one of the main growth drivers at the end of the review period with a rapidly expanding range of products and brands and increasing availability.

Euromonitor International's Free From in Norway report tracks the developments of health-associated product types and the healthy-option positioning of competing brands across different food sectors. It provides the latest retail sales data 2017-2021, allowing you to compare health and wellness categories with each other or in the context of the total market for a sector. It identifies the leading companies, the leading brands and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market- be they new product developments, legislative context or lifestyle influences. Forecasts to 2026 illustrate how the market is set to change.

Product coverage: Free From Allergens, Free From Dairy, Free From Gluten, Free From Lactose, Free From Meat.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
