Abstracts

Having survived the 2008 recession and the 2011 cotton price spike, the textiles industry still faces challenges ahead. Sustainability is increasingly at the forefront of the consumer mind-set and it is becoming clear that a one-size-fits-all solution does not suit all producers and retailers. This global briefing also examines evolving trends in two of the major end-use markets for the textiles supply chain: apparel and household textiles with a focus on distribution and consolidation.

Euromonitor International's From Fibre to Store: Developments in the Apparel and Household Textiles Market global briefing offers an insight into the size and shape of the retailing industry, highlights emerging trends, their effects on retailing in markets around the world, on the development of channels and consumers' shopping patterns. It identifies the leading companies and brands, offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market – be they the developments of new store types, the importance of non-store retailing, economic/lifestyle influences, private label or pricing issues. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and criteria for success.

Product coverage: Non-Store Retailing, Store-based Retailing.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
