Abstracts

In 2012, furniture and homewares stores saw a negligible decline in current value terms, which was a slight improvement over the decline recorded in 2011. Furniture and homewares are primarily durable consumer goods, and thus are very much affected by economic fluctuations. At the peak of the crisis in 2009, the channel demonstrated one of the strongest current value declines of 12%. In 2012, as the Danish economy resumed growth, Danes slowly increased their expenditure on home decorations.

Euromonitor International's Furniture and Homewares Stores in Denmark report offers insight into key trends and developments driving the industry. The report examines all retail channels to provide sector insight. Channels include hypermarkets, supermarkets, discounters, convenience stores, mixed retailers, health and beauty retailers, clothing and footwear retailers, furniture and furnishing stores, DIY and hardware stores, durable goods retailers, leisure and personal goods retailers. There are profiles of leading retailers, with analysis of their performance and the challenges they face. There is also analysis of non-store retailing: vending; homeshopping; internet retailing; direct selling, as available.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
