Abstracts

Furniture and homewares stores registered another dramatic decline in 2012. With a 5% decline in value sales, the furniture and homewares stores suffered another blow as a result of the difficult market conditions and the struggling housing market. The housing market in particular was a major problem. Housing prices have been inflated over the previous decades and after 2009 housing prices started to drop as due to the financial crisis, banks became more careful with giving large mortgages.

Euromonitor International's Furniture and Homewares Stores in Netherlands report offers insight into key trends and developments driving the industry. The report examines all retail channels to provide sector insight. Channels include hypermarkets, supermarkets, discounters, convenience stores, mixed retailers, health and beauty retailers, clothing and footwear retailers, furniture and furnishing stores, DIY and hardware stores, durable goods retailers, leisure and personal goods retailers. There are profiles of leading retailers, with analysis of their performance and the challenges they face. There is also analysis of non-store retailing: vending; homeshopping; internet retailing; direct selling, as available.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
