Abstracts

In 2013 and 2014, global spirits volume growth slowed markedly. Since the great recession, emerging markets had been the main growth driver of both local and international spirits brands. However, as these economies have slowed and many Western markets still struggle for growth so has the overall category. The briefing looks at the slowing of growth, but also the different opportunities to expand in both mature and emerging markets.

Euromonitor International's Global Spirits: Slowing But Still Offers Opportunities global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the Alcoholic Drinks market in both the off-trade and the on-trade, it highlights buzz topics, emerging geographies, categories and trends as well as pressing industry issues and white spaces. It identifies the leading companies and brands by total volume, offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market - be they new product developments, packaging innovations, economic/lifestyle influences, distribution or pricing issues. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and criteria for success.

Product coverage: Beer, Cider/Perry, RTDs/High-Strength Premixes, Spirits, Wine.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
