Abstracts

Danone is one of the world's leading soft drinks companies, with its focus on bottled water and its key development area, aquadrinks – flavoured water and functional water. Danone is strong in still bottled water in Asia Pacific and Latin America, and is progressing well in functional and flavoured water in certain markets. Going forward, there remain plenty of opportunities – Danone needs to address its weakness in the US, Nigeria, and India, and reduce its reliance on still bottled water.
