Abstracts

Heating appliances volume sales fell drastically as a result of the recession in Russia in 2015. Devaluation of the local currency led to the increase of average unit price. Consumers are afraid to spend money due to uncertainty in the region. Russians are in a “standby” mode and tend to postpone their new or replacement purchases until better economic times.

Euromonitor International's Heating Appliances in Russia report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data 2011-2015, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. It identifies the leading companies, the leading brands and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market – be they new product developments, format trends or distribution issues. Forecasts to 2020 illustrate how the market is set to change.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
