Abstracts

Heating appliances in the UK was adversely impacted by the economic downturn in 2009. This made it another challenging year for a category that was already in decline. British consumers were dealing with unemployment and lower disposable incomes. They, therefore, reduced their purchases of non-essential items, bringing retail volume sales down by 4%. Nevertheless, the category managed to deliver a result that was less negative than in the previous year.

Euromonitor International's Heating Appliances in United Kingdom report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data 2005-2009, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth.
