Abstracts

Having derived benefits from the search for products offering immunity and general health benefits in the wake of the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, dietary supplements, as a whole, including herbal/traditional offerings, are seeing a slowdown in sales development towards the end of the review period. As the threat of the COVID-19 virus ebbs, the interest in herbal/traditional dietary supplements has been hampered by lower demand from consumers for products that provide immune system support.

Euromonitor International's Herbal/Traditional Products in Czech Republic report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data 2018-2022, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. Forecasts to 2027 illustrate how the market is set to change.
