Abstracts

The home and garden industry maintained slow but steady growth in 2016, despite macroeconomic headwinds, with the buoyancy of emerging markets tempered by maturity in developed markets. However, new technology, urban gardening, connected homes and digital shopping experiences will present exciting new growth opportunities. Emerging markets are set to be new growth frontiers, but traditional heavyweights in the Western hemisphere will continue to be reliable anchors of revenue.

Euromonitor International's Home and Garden Global Industry Overview global briefing offers the big picture view of the size and shape of the Home and Garden market. The report delivers strategic insight into some of the key areas of the market, including emerging regions, countries and categories, as well as pressing industry issues and white spaces. It identifies opportunities, analyses leading companies and brands, and offers analysis of major factors influencing the market. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and criteria for success

Product coverage: Gardening, Home Furnishings, Home Improvement, Homewares.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
