Abstracts

Home insecticides is another category which is being impacted by price hikes, driven by high costs for manufacturers and inflationary pressures. Whilst players have aimed to absorb their own costs as much as possible, especially in light of the price-sensitive consumer environment, an increase in unit prices has been inevitable. This means value sales are being supported by these higher prices, while volume sales remain in a slump.

Euromonitor International's Home Insecticides in Greece market report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data (historic date range), allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth.
