Abstracts

Protein has been regarded as important nutrition for boosting immunity since the emergence of COVID-19 in 2020. This has led to the boom of high protein claims in dairy products and alternatives, and has been driving new product developments with a higher level of protein. The trend towards high protein in dairy products continued in 2022, with manufacturers actively launching new products with high protein claims, driving strong current value growth for high protein dairy products and alternati...
