Abstracts

2022 saw many South Africans reduce their spending on perceived non-essentials as the cost of living increased. In many aspects, health and wellness demands from consumers took a backseat in their priorities, given inflationary pressures. Major categories of staple foods, such as bread and rice, pasta and noodles, witnessed few innovations as local consumers focused on affordability. However, breakfast cereals witnessed the most efforts in terms of innovative launches within staple foods.

Euromonitor International's HW Staple Foods in South Africa report tracks the developments of health-associated product types and the healthy-option positioning of competing brands across different food sectors. It provides the latest retail sales data 2018-2022, allowing you to compare health and wellness categories with each other or in the context of the total market for a sector.
