Abstracts

The sunscreen market has evolved driven by consumer needs and technological advances. Sunscreen formulations have moved beyond skin cancer and sunburn prevention to products that also protect against air and light pollution and slow skin ageing. In addition, UV protection is now an essential function across all beauty categories. Protection is at the heart of consumer's preferences and this will bring opportunities for a number of sunscreen ingredients over the next few years.

Euromonitor International's Ingredients Trends and Innovation in Sun Protection: Sunscreens (Part 1) global briefing offers a comprehensive guide to the Ingredients market at an international level. It highlights the major drivers behind ingredient supply and demand, provides detailed analysis of the individual ingredient categories and the product categories they are used in. It also examines regional prospects, highlighting opportunities and challenges in ingredient usage.
