Abstracts

The jewellery market is particularly vulnerable to economic downturns, as in many respects jewellery defines "non-essential." Making matters worse, growth during the review period was not excessively strong as consumers appeared to be purchase other non-essentials, such as accessories and designer clothing, rather than jewellery.

Euromonitor International's Jewelleryin United Kingdom report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data (2005-2009), allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. It identifies the leading companies, the leading brands and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market – be they new product developments, distribution or pricing issues. Forecasts to 2014 illustrate how the market is set to change.
