Abstracts

Growth in luxury cars was negatively impacted by stagnating wages at the end of the review period. However, modest current value growth is expected over the forecast period, as an expanding, aspirational middle class fuels demand. Sales amongst this consumer group are set to be encouraged by more competitive pricing, particularly amongst foreign cars, which are becoming more affordable due to changing currency exchange rates.

Euromonitor International's Luxury Cars in Taiwan report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the Luxury Cars market at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. It identifies the leading companies, the leading brands and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market and their effects on Luxury Cars retailing along with the development of consumers' shopping patterns. Forecasts to 2023 illustrate how the market is set to change
