Abstracts

Medicated skin care continued to benefit from growing consumer demand in a variety of specialty/niche segments. Hair loss treatments, for example, continued to benefit from an ageing population in the US and witnessed current value retail growth of 4% in 2011. Nappy (diaper) rash treatments also continued to grow – leaping 7% in current value terms in 2011 – as budget-minded parents overextend the time their children are spending in their diapers, which increases the incidence of diaper rash.
